BIG DAY IN CASEY

GOOD CROWD HEARS SPEECHES FROM BOTH PARTIES

Senator Montgomery Introduces
Congressman Helm and Day
Is Big One For Democracy

Both the democratic and republican campaigns were pitched at Liberty Monday. Congressman Harvey Helm, of this city, and Hon. W. C. Owens, republican nominee for Congress from the Louisville district, for the G. O. P. The latter gentleman was the first speaker. He was introduced by Dan H. Taylor, brother of Dr. Taylor, the veterinarian of this city, who referred to Maj. Owens as the "roaring Senator from Louisville."

The crowd was largely republican but notwithstanding that Maj. Owens could not hold it, many before he had spoken fifteen minutes. A gentleman who heard him, says that his speech was most disappointing. He lambasted President Wilson for not bringing about war with Mexico and declared that he had suffered the great flag of the nation to be trampled underfoot; that President Wilson had submitted his people to such indignities as were shameful. Like Presidential Nominee Hughes, Maj. Owens found fault with everything the present administration has done and proved himself a knocker almost equal to the "Knocking Bird," Charles E. Hughes. It was evident that the speech made no converts and must have disappointed the leaders of the republican party, who had expected so much from the One-Term Congressman's effort.

It was then announced that the democrats would have their inning and again the court-house was crowded. Senator Charles F. Montgomery, who had been chosen master of ceremonies, introduced in a fitting, but brief speech, Hon. W. C. Kimball, who made a telling talk of an hour or more. Mr. Kimball is a most fascinating speaker and never fails to get the interest of his audience. His references to President Wilson were received with applause many republicans joining in the clapping of his hands. Mr. Kimball told of the great work accomplished under the Wilson administration and gave many reasons why the great man and greater President should be kept in power. It was a superb effort and good results may be expected in November from Mr. Kimball's speech. Senator Montgomery then introduced Hon. Harvey Helm. Said he "I am introducing to this magnificent audience a splendid democrat, an excellent gentleman and our democratic nominee for Congress. He was not my first choice for the nomination, as you all know, but I want to say he is my choice now and I shall work for him until the polls close in November."

He then presented Mr. Helm. Senator Montgomery's remarks were received with deafening applause. He showed plainly that there were no sore spots on him; that he is a game loser and can give hearty support to the gentleman who bested him.

Mr. Helm made a good, clean, democratic speech. He reviewed his record in Congress, told of the accomplishments of President Wilson in securing beneficial legislation, lauded him for keeping us at peace with the word, and thanked his stars for such a man for the head of the nation. At the conclusion many of Mr. Helm's friends grasped his hand and pledged their support of him and the entire ticket this fall.

It was democratic day in good; old Casey and if that county is not found in the democratic column after the votes are counted some two months hence, many knowing ones will be both surprised and disappointed.

Hustonville

Bailey Hill and wife, of Stanford, were guests in our town last week for a few days.

Gus Geiszl, of Crab Orchard, the road contractor, is here with his machinery and a large force of workmen getting out rock on the Adams farm on the Middleburg pike to put on same.

J. A. Benedd, of Danville, was in town a few days ago and with him a Turkish dog, four months old, which born on the waters. It attracted lots of attention.

Two houses owned by colored people burned down at six o'clock Thursday afternoon. They were the homes of James Baldock and James Jones. Baldock's house was almost ready to fall in when discovered. They were eating supper and had a narrow escape. Everything was destroyed. The house of Jones was destroyed, but the households goods were saved.

The force of Gus Geiszl, that was working nearby rendered great assistance.

Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Floyd, of Cynthia, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Floyd.

Bobbie Tucker has the typhoid fever and at present is doing nicely. The sale of R. L. Berry held Saturday was well attended and stock sold well.

Squire Gann has rented the Nannie Brown property of Charles Wheeler and moved to town to learn the ways of city life in his old days.

PRESIDENT AT HODGENVILLE

Notwithstanding the fact that Lincoln county's two official delegates, George D. Florence and S. M. Saufley, were both prevented by illness from attending the Lincoln Day ceremonies at Hodgenville Monday, scores went from this county, most going through in autos to see the President and witness the ceremonies. President Wilson, on behalf of the nation, accepted the farm near Hodgenville, Ky., where Abraham Lincoln was born, the Memorial Hall that shelters the historic log cabin, the maintenance fund of $50,000 to conserve the property as a national shrine. His address was a panegyric upon Lincoln and a tribute to his great Americanism, with eloquent counsel for a continuance of the spirit of democracy in which he said: "Here we may forever keep alive the vestal fire of democracy as upon a shrine at which some of the deepest and most sacred hopes of mankind may, from age to age, be rekindled." The President spent an hour sightseeing in Louisville on his return from Hodgenville and departed at 5 o'clock Monday for Washington. He was welcomed by cheering crowds at every place where he appeared throughout the day.

BIG STRIKE CALLED OFF

The proposed great railroad strike was called off late Saturday night, when the Adamson Eight-hour Day Bill, accepted by labor union officials as providing a satisfactory settlement of the demands on which they based their order calling a national-wide railroad strike for Monday, was passed without an amendment that night by the Senate by a vote of 43 to 28. It was signed by President Wilson immediately. Shortly after the vote in the Senate the brotherhood leaders in Washington started out their code messages ordering the various general chairmen to cancel the orders for a walkout at 7 o'clock Monday morning. Lifting of the previously ordered freight embargoes on the part of the railroad after the action in Washington. At Crab Orchard the school term also reconvened with a large attendance of the little ones. Prof. U. G. Hatfield is at the head of a splendid institution, has a very competent faculty and the school seems in for one of the best years of its history.

A MISTAKE IN SCHOOL DATE

It should have been Sept. 4th and not 14th that the Hustonville graded and high school opened, as was erroneously stated in the I. J. last Friday. Reports from the West End are that the enrollment on the opening day was very satisfactory and the new term starts out most auspiciously. The Board of Trustees has secured a splendid faculty, headed by Prof. S. S. Robinson and a most successful session is anticipated. At Crab Orchard the school term also reconvened with a large attendance of the little ones. Prof. U. G. Hatfield is at the head of a splendid institution, has a very competent faculty and the school seems in for one of the best years of its history.

LOCAL POULTRY GETS MONEY

John O. Reid, proprietor of the Lombardy Heights Poultry Farm swept the platter almost clean with his pens of pure bred birds at the Nicholasville fair last week. He returned home with 43 blue ties, 19 reds, and won the sweepstake ring for best exhibit of poultry in the fair. Mr. Reid will take his birds to the state fair at Louisville next week.

PAYS PROMPTLY.

T. C. Ball, of this city, paid for his I. J. Monday for the 34th year, and during all of that time he has never been more than four days late in renewing his paper. Would that there were more like him.

"Davy" Goes to The Bat

Notwithstanding Raw Deal His Party Gave Him In Recent Primary

Dr. R. L. Davison, of this city proved the quality of his old-fashioned republicanism in no uncertain fashion Monday. It will be recalled that Dr. Davison "also ran" for the republican nomination for congress in this district at the recent primary, and naturally his friends are not in the best humor in the world at the treatment which was accorded him by many of the so-called republican leaders of the district. Monday morning Dr. Davison received a phone call from Republican headquarters at Louisville, that a Republican speaker was badly needed at Winchester. It was county court day there, and some sort of mix-up occurred over the date, and no speaker was ready. Dr. Davison was not ready either with a prepared speech, but he again proved the contention of his friends when they were calling him as the right man for the congressional nomination that the "night is never too long or the way too dark" for Doc, to go to the aid of the G. O. P., and he told the party headquarters that he would gladly go to Winchester and speak. He took the morning train and went over to give 'em what he and others of the "Old Guard" call the "old-fashioned gospel" which, of course, sounds mighty good to the members of that party and puts the pep in them with a big P, though of course, is regarded as the veriest poppycock by us yellow-dog democrats. Anyway Dr. Davison handed it out in large doses and made 'em like it. The Doctor is a wheelhorse of his party and will be right up at the front of the old pie counter, helping dish out the "Grapes" to the party. He will event any such calamity as the election of Hughes should take place in November.

After speaking at Winchester Dr. Davison headed the delegation from Lincoln county which went over to hear Hughes speak at Lexington to-day. Mr. D. Florence, Dr. Southard, J. W. Acey and Cal Nevius, George W. Gentry and others went from Stanford, while several auto loads went through from the south end, the west and east ends. A special excursion on the Q. & C. carried a thousand republicans from Pulaski and down in Tennessee.

Latest War News

The French have made fresh progress east of the village of Forest, north of the Somme River, and on the south have successfully attacked objectives along a front of eighteen miles from Barleux to Chaules, according to the Paris report. The village of Sovecourt was carried by assault, as well as part of Verdunville. More than 5,000 prisoners have been taken in the past two days.

Again there is heavy fighting on the front in Russia, west and south of Lutsk and north of Zborov and near Brezany in Galicia with the Russians generally the aggressors. In the Carpathian region, according to Petrograd, the Russians have captured an entire ridge of heights and are advancing toward the Hungarian frontier.

The Rumanians pressing their advantage against the Austro-Hungarians, have captured several additional towns along the Transylvania front. They are now said to be bombarding Hermannstadt, which is second in importance only to Kronstadt.

Rumanian attacks on the Austrians in the important sector around Orsova have been successful. The Austrian official statement, issued recently announced that after five days of heavy fighting in this region Austrian troops were withdrawn to the west bank of the Cerna River.

Another raid on the east coast of England was made. An official statement said: "Shortly before 11 o'clock in the evening our eastern coasts were attacked by several hostile airships. Bombs were dropped on a few places. No details have been received as regards the number of raiders or their objective. The raid is still progressing."

Although reports are that the political situation in Greece is growing more serious, the facts are still shrouded. A revolt is reported to have spread from Macedonia to Thessaly and Epirus. The Entente Ministers at Athens have drafted a note for Premier Zaimis, the tenor of which is not known.

The new Russian offensive in Galicia and Bukovina continues. Petrograd says the Russians have taken positions forty-eight miles east of Lemberg. Attacks against the Austro-German lines in Volhynia, Galicia and the Carpathians were repulsed, Berlin says.

Charles E. Hughes, republican nominee for President, faced tumultuous audiences in Nashville Monday, and was frequently interrupted by cheering for Wilson and heckled with questions. He declined to review the State Guard and also to address a labor meeting.

Three men and as many women had a miraculous escape from death at Donerail, between Georgetown and Lexington Monday afternoon when their machine was struck by a Queen and Crescent train. Though bruised, none was seriously injured.

Logan's Fort Unveiling

To Be Conducted Here Friday Under Auspices of D. A. R.

An interesting program has been arranged for the formal unveiling of the monument which marks the site of the old Logan's Fort, in the yard of J. B. Camenisch, near the Water Works in Stanford next Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Arrangements are under the auspices of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and members of the Logan-Whitley chapter, of Stanford and the St. Asaph chapter of Danville, will participate. A general invitation is extended to everyone to be present at this historical occasion. The formal program will be as follows:

Acceptance on Behalf of Stanford Chapter by Mrs. B. Florence, Address by Dr. W. A. Ganfield, President of Central University, "America" sung by audience. The Logan-Whitley chapter have gone to much trouble to make this event a success and they hope for the cooperation of all the citizens of Stanford in making the occasion the success it should be. The visiting Daughters will be entertained informally immediately after the program is concluded.

New Club President

Mrs. W. C. Wilson Elected To Succeed Mrs. J. G. Carpenter

At a special meeting of the Woman's Club of Stanford late last week, Mrs. W. C. Wilson was elected president of the club to succeed Mrs. J. G. Carpenter, resigned. The resignation of Mrs. Carpenter was accepted with regret, but she felt forced to tender it on account of prospective removal to their farm in the East End of the county. Mrs. Wilson enters upon her duties with the hearty co-operation of the whole club, and under most auspicious circumstances. The club is planning to shortly issue its Year Book, and has a varied list of activities before it for the ensuing year.

MISS PAXTON ENTERTAINS

On the evening of September the first, Miss Jean Paxton most delightfully, yet informally, entertained two dozen or more of her friends at a dinner at her home. The dinner was assisted in receiving by her mother, Mrs. J. B. Paxton. On account of the rain the entertaining was done indoors, and the large parlors and halls were thrown open to the guests. Those who assisted in entertaining were Miss Josephine Carpenter, Sallie Mills Craig and Mrs. Paxton, and Miss Carpenter favored the crowd with many beautiful piano selections. At the usual hour delightful ice cream and individual cakes in the colors of white and yellow were served. Those present were Misses Frances Embury, Annie Rogers Powell, Edith Noe, Josephine Carpenter, Edith Welburn, Annie Katherine Matheny, Josephine Matheny, Matsy Grimes, Lettie Walker McKinney, Anna Green Wood, Sallie Mills Craig, Virginia Omer and Nancy Katherine McKinney, Messrs. Joe T. Embury, William Grimes, Stith Noe, Ferdinand Matheny, Maurice Bruce, Lewis Omer, Sam Hill, Clem Hill, Henley Cash, John Cash and James Tribble.

DUDDERAR-RICHARDS

Announcements have been received here from Louisville by friends and relatives of the marriage of Miss Nancy Elizabeth Dudderar to Mr. John M. Richards, Jr., which occurred on Monday evening, the 22nd of February in Louisville. The wedding was kept a secret until last Friday when the announcements were issued. The bride is a daughter of the late Z. Dudderar and a niece of Mrs. George F. DeBorde and J. Fox Dudderar, of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Richards will be at home in Springfield, Mo., after September 20th.

Cattle Market Unstable

Interesting Stock Letter Tells of Western Markets Conditions

CHICAGO, Sept. 4.—Cattle trade has never been more unstable than now. Late last week a semi-panic condition developed. Cattle could not be sold at 75c to $1 per cwt. compared with Monday. Buyers advanced as a reason shortage of labor at packing houses and sporadic strikes. A heavy run all around the market circle was a depressant influence. Early this week they were bid leaders for state steers at which they could not be induced to look a few days before and a sharp reaction occurred. Hog values have been well maintained at a slightly lower level than the high point of the season last week. In the sheephouse a heavy supply of western lambs, contracted for August delivery, has depressed values of fat grades about $1.25 per cwt. below the high spot early in August.

About 250,000 cattle reached western markets last week and the season's beef roundup is now in full swing. Kansas City received 71,000 and Chicago 65,000 cattle last week, the resultant break checking the movement. Packers are getting thousands of grass steers anywhere from $7 to $8, purchases having taxed limited killing facilities. Revision of prices in a downward direction has been drastic, but lower priced steers have braved the ordeal better than $9 to $10.00 grades on which the decline last week was most severe. Now that the grass movement is well under way the market is expected to acquire a stride.

Values of western cattle did not experience the sharp decline in natives last week and the market is on a healthy basis at prices current early last week and but slightly under the high point at the opening of the season. This week the top cut of the Heinrich cattle from Montana, averaging 1,384 pounds, sold at $9, with the string at $8.65. The major portion sold at $7.75 with tops at $8.10. The first Matador consignment of the season sold at $8.30 for the dehorned tops and $8 for the rest. Fat little Mexican cattle are getting a good reception at $7 to $7.35. The run is carrying practically no feeders and little female stock.

A sale of Washington yearling breeding ewes at $10 during the week indicates high point on the trade. They went to Ohio. Good aged western breeding ewes are on a $7.50 basis, the general price for native yearlings being $9.50. Few feeding wethers are available, one lot going out this week at $6.75. Feeder yearlings are selling at $7.50 to $7.75, with old ewes at $5 to $5.50. Killing yearlings have lost 25c during the week, sheep having been out of line. Yearlings are selling largely at $7.75 to $8, wethers $7.50 to $7.60 and ewes $6.75 to $7.00.

Heifers at $6.25 to $7.50 constitute the bulk of current supply. Cornfed grades and canner stock does not experience these violent changes. There is a broad demand for canners at $4.25 to $4.60. Bulls had a sharp recovery late last week, but have recovered 25 to 35c of the loss, bologna steers selling largely at $8.50 to $9.35. Veals have lost 50c per cwt. in a week. A few picked bunches selling at $12, with the bulk at $11.50 to $11.75, heavies around $7 and middle weights at $8.50.

After the pyrotechnical display of last week the hog market has dropped into a rut. Fluctuations have been narrow and the spread between common and good hogs shows a disposition to widen. Considering the attitude of the market this spread has been narrow. This week it is $10.40 to $10.60 market on packing grades, with shipper and bacon specialties at $11 to $11.25. Trash is selling around $10 and a grade of mixed hogs with shipper top anywhere from $10.50 to $11. Quality is steadily deteriorating, indicating that country shippers are experiencing difficulty in maintaining a marketward movement that is sufficient to meet killers' needs. Pigs are scarce, but the season is at hand and the market is usually filled with young stuff.

Washington, Idaho and Montana have contributed to a heavy supply of lambs during the past week, causing a decline of 40c in westerns and 65 to 85c in natives, the latter being a poor lot. From the high point at $11.50 two weeks back top western lambs dropped this week to $10.45. In the case of natives the $10 quality was eliminated, $9.25 to $9.75 taking the bulk. Western stuff has been lightly sorted, packers preferring to buy in straight bands, taking off the feeder end themselves. The heavy run has been due to acceptance of speculators of stock contracted for August, delivery, much of it having been run prematurely in apprehension of a railroad strike. This week $10.25 has been a common price off good western lambs.

Feeding lambs sold at Omaha during the past week at $10.60 and this week it has been a $10 to $10.25 market, there Iowa being a heavy purchaser. A light class of western lambs is available at Omaha than Chicago, which warrants higher prices. The Chicago market is on a $10 to $10.10 basis. The spread between fat and feeding lambs has been practically wiped out. A year ago Omaha's top was $8.50 in August and veterans in the business refused to buy on that basis. In August, 1914, the Chicago top on feeding lambs was $7.40, a record up to that time. In August, 1901, Chicago top on feeding lambs was $4.25, prices having more than doubled during the 15-year period.

Good staple wools are firm, but inferior grades show a declining tendency. Dealers show no disposition to shade prices on qualified grades. Foreign markets are firm. Boston reports sales of Michigan quarter and three-eighths wools at 40 to 41c, asking prices being a cent higher. Missouri quarter and three-eighths have sold at 39 to 40c. Original packages of Utah and Idaho fine and fine medium have sold at 27 to 28c, and 80c clean basis, and Wyoming three-eighths

$700 For Pair of Mules

Charley Lutes Buys Crack Team From Harris & Woods

High price mule records of several years' standing in this part of the state were broken here Saturday when Charley Lutes, of Goldsboro, N. C., paid Harris & Woods of this city a cool $700 for their pair of five-year-old mare mules. An I. J. representative saw the draft on a North Carolina bank for the amount named in the transaction, and Mr. Lutes expresses the belief that he will sell them in the south for $900. These are the pair of black show mules, with which these local mule breeders have swept the platter clean at the previous fairs in this part of Kentucky for several seasons. Mr. Lutes will have them shipped at once and will probably show them at several big fairs in the Tarheel state. So far as known, this price has been equalled in Kentucky but once this year, and has not been exceeded.

Ailsa Page Brings $600

Senator Hubble Sells Crack Roadster Mare to McCray Bros.

Ailsa Page, the crack roadster mare with which Senator R. L. Hubble has been cleaning up the fair rings in this part of the state this season, was sold by her owner to McCray Bros., of North Middleton, Bourbon county Saturday for $600. Her new owners will take Ailsa Page to the State Fair next week, and show her in the big $1,000 roadster ring on Tuesday night. They have had an entry paid for in the big stake for some time but had no animal to enter. After seeing this mare perform at several fairs, they decided to buy her, and paid a nice price for her but all who had seen her work, say she is worth it. The mare has proven a very profitable investment for Senator Hubble, who bought her a year or so ago from Sterling Curtis for about $300. She won over $500 on the fair circuit this season. The competition she met at Louisville will be very keen, but she looks to have a grand chance to cop a big part of the money.

ROCKCASTLE DEMOCRATS BUSY

The Democrats of Rockcastle have organized a Wilson and Marshall club with seventy-five members. W. J. Sparks, one of the chief advocates of the organization of the club, was made president and E. S. Albright secretary. All the Democrats present were enthusiastic and it is the intention to organize other clubs at the most important places in the county. Rockcastle will unquestionably give the largest Democratic vote in November that has been cast for any Democrat in many years.

At a conference of Progressive party men held in Detroit, with every county in Michigan represented, Woodrow Wilson was indorsed for President.

There have been made 37 1-2c. Interest centers in the next London sales beginning September 5. Extensive contracting of wool on the sheep's back. Horse trade is still largely an army inspection affair. Early this week the accumulation by foreign governments at all interior concentration points was ordered to the Atlantic seaboard. Common horses not eligible to the army outlet are hard to sell. In the inspections business is done at a range of $115 to $200. Gunners are appraised at $150 and horses at a low end of the range. Some trade is being done in commercial chunks at $185 to $220. The British, French and Italian inspections are taking every horse suitable for cavalry and artillery purposes.

Grass cows and heifer declined about $1 cwt. in sympathy with steers late last week, but a subsequent recovery of 25 to 50c has occurred. Cows selling at $5.40 to $6.85 and is reported in South America.

Corn was strong all last week on bad reports from the south of healthy cash demand and the railroad situation, new high prices on the crop being made, but on Monday of this week prices broke 4c in sympathy with wheat. Recovery ensued. Crop news is conflicting. Cash handlers predict a material increase in the price of corn. Early this week Chicago from Illinois and Iowa this week that was two years old. Trade sentiment is more mixed than recently and until the wheat market settles down to a more normal condition nervousness is to be expected. The Kansas inspection of early this week, 100,000 bushels, the smallest with two exceptions since Kansas became an important corn state.

Packers are not only clearing out cellar stocks but are clamorous for hogs to satisfy contracts, otherwise the spread between trash and quality would be wider. Exports of hog product continue on an extensive scale, 16,490,000 pounds of meats and 6,110,000 pounds of lard having found that outlet last week, against 9,840,000 and 6,042,000 pounds respectively a year ago. Despite high prices for hogs, the market for lard looks legitimately healthy at the recent advance. Good hogs are scarce everywhere and packers' cellars will be cleared before the winter packing season begins.

A steadily decreasing percentage of good hogs indicates how high prices have stimulated gathering. Hogs sell in the country at $10 per cwt. only at rare intervals and growers' determination not to overstay a good market is excusable. The predicted supply gap is already developing and but for a conspicuous percentage of trash current receipts at western markets would be small. If present prices continue the advance guard of the new crop will show up late next month at deficit weights in anticipation of the stereotyped break at the inception of the winter packing season.

Defends His Policies

President Brands Republican Party As "Practical and Moral Failure"

The Republican party was characterized as a "practical and moral failure" in the speech of President Wilson accepting the Democratic nomination Saturday at Shadow Lawn, the summer White House. The President was unsparing in his criticism of the Republican party, defended his foreign and Mexican policies, reviewed the achievements of his Administration and declared for "Big America." Senator Ollie M. James, of Kentucky, introduced the President to a crowd of 8,000 persons, who interrupted the President with applause repeatedly during the course of his address.

Points in President's Speech. The time has come for the country to relegate provincialism and little Americanism in statesmanship.

The United States in the future must lend, not borrow; act, not imitate; organize and initiate, not follow.

"Mistakes (in the Mexican policy) I have no doubt made, but not in purpose or object."

The Democrats initiated and executed reforms which the Republicans never even attempted in their sixteen years of power.

The Republicans were ousted from the Government because they served the special interests, not the country. The situation in Mexico is a test of the Big Brotherhood policy of the United States.

The Democrats have carried out not only their own program, but most of the Progressive and reform program of the last administration. "We are also Progressives," said the President.

The railway system of the country must be co-ordinated for the better service of the nation.

The St. Louis platform is a pledge and a program.

Referring to hyphenism, the President said: "I neither seek the favor nor fear the displeasure of that small alien element among us which puts loyalty to any foreign Power before loyalty to the United States."

Points in Senator James' Speech. The Wilson administration has destroyed the Money Trust and the Panic Trust.

It achieved preparedness. It passed the Shipping Bill and east out subsidies.

It enacted a Rural Credits Bill for the benefit of the farmer.

It maintained peace with Europe and with Mexico without sacrifice of American rights.

It added to the stature and health of future Americans by enactment of the Child Labor Bill.

It secured prosperity, with American exports now the greatest in the world.

It destroyed the powerful and insidious congressional lobby.

"The people know," said Senator James to Wilson, "that you are unbossed—unbought—unafraid."

"When peace shall spread her white wings over a charred and bloody world, in the quiet of the chamber of the just historian, when the din and roar of political antagonism and passion of partisanship shall have died away, when principle shall outlast mere parties, and when shall no longer lure men and parties to unjust attack, the historian will accord to you and your Administration a foremost place in the republic's life."

HIT LIQUOR MEN HARD.

(From Liqueur Sun)

Middleboro officials are narrowing the path for the liquor men. Not only have the city commissioners practically made it impossible to conduct soft drink stands by recent legislation; they go farther by requiring a license fee of $500 for soliciting orders or distributing order blanks for mail order liquor houses, and providing a fine of $10 for each order solicited in violation of same.

Don't forget that after Oct. 1st, the I. J. subscription price will be $1.50 a year but till then you may subscribe for as many years in advance as you wish at $1 a year.

Get the BANK book first, and be a man with money

The fundamental principles of education are "readin', 'ritin' and 'rithmetic." All of these can be learned more practically in a BANK BOOK than in any other book. If your boy has a bank book he is learning what arithmetic is for. It is the practical application of a thing which teaches it is the most beneficial and lasting way.

If your boy has not got a bank account see that he opens one.

J. H. LIVINGSTON

EDISON FOR WILSON

The finest tribute to President Woodrow Wilson and his accomplishments, not given by a Democrat, was that paid by Thomas A. Edison, the world's greatest inventor, and a life-long Republican. Edison says that he intends to vote for Wilson in November and tells his reasons which are well worth reading by every true hearted American. They follow.

"Not since 1860 has any campaign made such a direct call of simon pure Americanism; the times are too serious to talk or think in terms of republicanism or democracy. Real Americans must drop parties and get down to big fundamental principles. 'More than any other President in my memory Wilson has been faced by a succession of tremendous problems, any one of which decided the wrong way would have had disastrous consequences. Wilson's decisions so far have not got us into any serious trouble, nor are they likely to. 'He has given us peace with honor. This talk about the United States being despised is nonsense. Neutrality is a mighty trying policy, but back of it are international law, the rights of humanity and the future of civilization."

"With reference to Mexico, I think that the President has acted wisely, justly and courageously. It was right that the United States should not have recognized such a murderous personality as Huerta. I do not believe that we should have intervened nor do I believe that we should intervene now. Mexico is a troublesome neighbor just now, but war her better one. Both against England and conquest is not going to make and against human slavery the United States worked out its salvation through revolution, and it was a pretty slow trying process."

"It has been said that Wilson at first was against preparedness. Perhaps he was, but when convinced intelligent public opinion was overwhelmingly in favor of it, he changed. That is the proper thing for our President to do. A President defiant of public opinion, would be a dangerous man in our system of government."

"They say he has blundered. Perhaps he has. But I notice that he usually blunders forward."

Both in its news columns and editorially, the Philadelphia North American, a recognized Roosevelt organ and up to the present, a supporter of Charles E. Hughes in a last week's issue makes the statement that the Republican candidate is now facing "a nation-wide Progressive revolt." A special dispatch from San Francisco declares that Chester Rowell, Progressive leader and member of the Republican National campaign committee, has denounced the Republican candidate for "abandoning the Progressives of California to the Old Guard wolves." The paper commenting upon Mr. Rowell's denunciation says: "It points to an impending Progressive war on the candidate which may easily react on the situation in every state in the Union, especially in the doubtful states."

The Democratic committee of the Franklin-Mercer-Anderson district nominated M. J. Meagher, of Frankfort, for the vacancy caused by the appointment of Senator of George Speer as Banking Commissioner. Such a nomination is of little interest here except in so far as the selection of a man like Meagher means the addition of one more senator of unimpeachable integrity, high honor, and unusual fidelity to his friends to the upper house of the General Assembly. The State Senate will be honored by having a man of the calibre Mike Meagher as a member.

A California paper says that the newspapers writers who have followed Charles Charles E. Hughes across the continent in his private car all say the same thing—just like making a campaign for office in Ireland. It is stated that the Republican nominee, after one of his cold receptions in mid-summer, called the reporters in to his car and said: "You gentlemen are not presenting me right to the American people. You must give me a personality; you must make me human." One of the reporters replied, "Well Mr. Hughes, how do you expect us to do what God Almighty has failed to do?"

A correspondent of the Somerset Herald, stalwart republican organ, writing of Hughes' trip thru the west said that the hardest thing that Mr. Hughes found to contend against was that President Wilson has "kept the country out of war and steered it along a course of prosperity." This is exactly what will re-elect Wilson—Peace and Prosperity. No republican argument can possibly defeat them.

SAVES DAUGHTER

Advice of Mother no Doubt Prevents Daughter's Untimely End.

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Laura Bratcher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months."

I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles.

Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me.

At last, my mother advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I thought it was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good. But I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing.

I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased, and I look the picture of health."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, get a bottle of Cardui today. Delay is dangerous. We know it will help you, for it has helped so many thousands of other weak women in the past 50 years.

He was burnt all over and lived about 20 hours. He was a good kind man and deserves all the praise one can give. HOW MRS. BEAN MET THE CRISIS

Carried Safely Through Change of Life by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Nashville, Tenn.—"When I was going through the change of life I had a tumor as large as a child's head. The doctor said it was three years coming and gave me medicine for it until I was called away from the city for some time. Of course I could not go to him then, so my sister-in-law told me that she thought Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound would cure it. It helped both the change of life and the tumor and when I got home I did not need the doctor. I took the Pinkham remedies until the tumor was gone, the doctor said, and I have not felt it since. I tell every one how I was cured. If this letter will help others you are welcome to use it."

—Mrs. E. H. BEAN, 525 Joseph Avenue, Nashville, Tenn.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a pure remedy containing the extractive properties of good old fashioned roots and herbs, meets the needs of woman's system at this critical period of her life. Try it.

JONES—HALE.

On August 23rd, Miss Gertrude Jones and Mr. Virgil Hale surprised their many friends by driving to Highland to Mr. C. M. Young's and there they were met by Rev. Wright, who was the witness that united the hearts of this popular young couple in the holy bonds of matrimony. The bride is the pretty and attractive 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Jones, west Highland. She was attired in a beautiful white satin with lace vest and sleeves and trimmed in brilliant button and ribbon. The bride certainly did look lovely. She is a faithful member of the Methodist church and loved by all who know her. The groom is the son of Mr. Lena Hale, of Pleasant Hill and is a bright and prosperous young man and holds a nice position at Piqua, O. Many friends extend to him their heartfelt congratulations for winning such a charming young lady for his bride. Those who attended the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. George Young, Mr. Hardin Young, Miss Grace Young, Miss Lillie Hale and Mrs. Lockie Young. On their return home from Highland a nice and quite wedding supper was served. The bride and groom will make their future home in Piqua, Ohio, where their many friends wish them much joy and happiness.

Jesse Manning has taken a position with J. H. Baughman & Co., at the mill.

George Burdette, electrician of the Danville phone exchange, is laid up at his home with a severe boil on a foot.

C. S. Lyons, the well known Hanging Fork poultry fancier, was laid up with the grip last week and unable to take his birds to the Nicholasville fair to show.

A record attendance was registered at the reopening of the Stanford Graded and High Schools Monday, and every indication points to a most successful year.

Contractor J. R. Powell has a force of men enlarging the entrance porch to the lower grades in the old college building down town. He will have it in shape the opening of school on Monday.

J. K. Baughman, of the West End judged the mules at the big Nicholasville fair last week, and reports from there are to the effect that he gave splendid satisfaction in every way.

John G. Baugh, who has been making his headquarters at Berea, since coming back to Kentucky, after his visit to Missouri, came down for the fair last week. He may yet decide to return to Lincoln to make his home.

Mr. W. E. Skiles, who has been assisting his brother, Cashier H. G. Skiles in the Crab Orchard Banking Company, while T. Hays Bronaugh was taking a vacation, returned to his home in Louisville Saturday.

The road workers on the Danville pike are reopening the old Huffman quarry, having found an underlayer of clay beneath a quarry which was opened at the Hammond place near the Hanging Fork covered bridge.

Contractor Will Stone is just finishing up a nice eight room bungalow on his lot on Portman avenue west of his home and the cottage occupied by Mr. and Mrs. McKee. The new house will probably be occupied by the latter when the finishing touches are put on it.

D. B. Spragens, who taught in the Stanford High school last year has accepted a position as local editor of the Georgetown Times, a weekly paper. Spragens has had an inclination for newspaper work for years, and his many friends here will wish him unbounded success.

J. F. Gover lost five good sheep from inflammation of the bowels last week.

The Messers, Sweeney, from Elk Lake, Mont., who have been visiting old time friends in the West End and in Casey county, spent Thursday at the fair here and received many warm welcomes from those who had known them in bygone days. This was their first visit back home to Kentucky in half dozen years. They are both prominent business men in their far western home, and incidentally, have been long-time, appreciated subscribers to the I. J.

The I. J. has received a much appreciated letter from Mrs. L. K. Kidd, a sister of Mrs. Bessie Martin, of Lincolnite. Mrs. Kidd has been quite ill for some time, her many friends back home will regret to know. As soon as she improves she will go with her husband and Jack Vanhooker to Minnesota, which the physicians say will be better for her.

A number of the White Ribbon ladies from Hustonville and McKinney and a few gentlemen accepted the very cordial invitation and drove over for the 11 o'clock service. The way was well paved, the door was wide open. The "rally folks" rendered a temperance program which was kindly and heartily received. The congregation is unusually wide awake active and well organized for a little country church and their response to the appeal for the temperance cause was prompt and beautiful. A local union was partially organized with about thirty-four names and a good many more names will be added to the charter roll next Sunday afternoon, we hope. This splendid young pastor and his most gracious mother with their young friend, Miss Telman were untiring in their unbounded hospitality. We trust God may abundantly bless them and their good congregation and that not one young "lamb" may go the way of the rum traffic.—Mrs. J. K. Baughman.

CLAUDE C. LEETE

(From Davenport Wash., Tribune)

Claude C. Leete, age 38, native of Walla Walla and for most of his life a resident of Lincoln county and of Davenport, died at his home in Tippecanoe, Ind., Friday, July 28, after being confined to his bed for 12 days. Death resulted from liver trouble aggravated by other complications. His death was not entirely unexpected, friends in Davenport being informed by telegram of his serious illness a few days before his death.

The body was brought to Davenport for burial, funeral services being held yesterday afternoon at the Christian church, Rev. O. D. Harris preaching. At the cemetery the services were conducted by the masonic order of which he was a member. A large number of friends attended the funeral services and followed the body to Mountview cemetery for its final rest.

Mr. Leete was for years a resident of Davenport, and for 12 years was in the county auditor's office in some capacity, the last two being auditor of Lincoln county, his term expired in January, 1914. In honor to his long and faithful service in the employ of the county the court house was closed during his funeral services. He left Davenport the spring of 1914, being at Roseland B. C., visiting his mother, Mrs. A. T. Collis, for some time, later was employed at Spokane University, Spokane, later in Montana with a title and security company, and the last spring he went to Tippecanoe, where he accepted a position with an interurban company, where he was employed at the time of his death.

Deceased was born at Walla Walla, was a graduate of the Sprague high school. In June, 1910 he was married to Miss Margaret Livingston, of Kentucky. Mrs. Leete being with him at the time of his death and accompanied the body to Davenport. A son, Dean, now two and a half years old, was born to the couple. Other relatives are, his mother, Mrs. A. T. Collis, his grandfather, Judge N. T. Caton and an uncle, E. H. Caton and a number of other relatives, all of whom were present at the funeral, Mr. and Mrs. Caton arriving from Walla Walla while the funeral services were being conducted.

Realizing that the end was near Claude requested that his body be brought to Davenport for burial, that he may be laid to rest by the friends who had known him most of his life. He considered Davenport his home, still owning his residence here. He was active in church and lodge work during all the years he resided here, being a member of the Christian church and of the Masonic, Knights of Pythias, Odd Fellows and Woodman lodges.

Mrs. Leete and son will remain in Davenport, making this their home. Mrs. Collis and Judge Caton will remain here a few days before returning to their home in Roseland, B. C.
